

History Group, September Gazette

At its August 2 meeting Richard Crowe gave an interesting talk to the History Group on the Johnstown Flood of 1889, one of nation's worst loss of life disasters.

At the next two sessions Mike Ryan will speak on the life of George Armstrong Custer: September 6 will cover Custer's early life and career, West Point and the Civil War; the October 4 meeting will cover the settling of the West, Plains Indian Wars, and the fateful Last Stand in Montana.

The History Group meets the first Monday of each month in the Oakmont Rooms from 4:30 to 5:30 PM. Everyone is welcome. The talks are interesting and, best of all, there are no tests.
