

Message to Management - Instructions on how to stay logged in while in Safari

In order to stay logged into your Message to Management account without having to enter your password every time you will need to do the following:

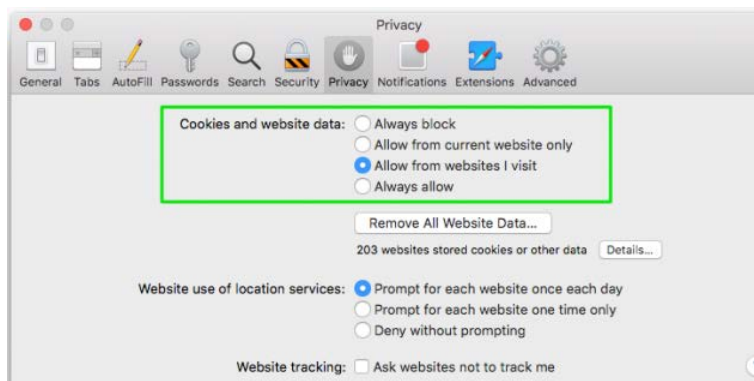

Login to Message to Management site soleraovg.com/management/message-to-management, then be sure to check the box "Remember Me"

1. A Safari icon should pop up asking if you would like to save your password to keychain. Click Save Password

2. While staying logged into the site please access system preferences by Clicking Safari (upper left) >Preferences >Privacy >Click "Allow from websites I visit"
 - Safari accepts cookies and website data only from websites you visit. Safari uses your existing cookies to determine whether you have visited a website before. Selecting this option helps prevent websites that have embedded content in other websites you browse from storing cookies and data on your Mac.

This is the first step necessary to ensure you are able to stay logged into the site and do not need to enter your password every time. If issues still occur please email websupport@keystonepacific.com with your concerns.
